

Hey Kids, Join ICE and Get Free Drinks!
(A Message from the Office of DHS Recruitment)

Dear Future ICE Agent,

We at ICE have recently lowered our age requirements. If you're 18 years old, or at least look like you are (we do not check IDs), you can get all the benefits of being an ICE Agent. Including free drinks. Seriously!

ICE Agents don't need to show ID or warrants, much less honor their victims' rights to due process, when they gang-tackle brown-skinned men and women in pursuit of filling their daily arrest quotas.

Now kids, if you don't need to show ID before violently arresting someone to be deported just because you think they look like an "illegal alien" then you can be sure some bartender (who might be an illegal alien himself) is not going to bother carding you just for ordering a beer.

As an ICE Agent you can walk into any bar, all decked out in your bulletproof ICE vest and sidearm, with your ICE buddies swaggering beside you, and order a drink.

The bartender will be so relieved you're not there to deport his dishwashing crew that your drinks will be on the house with free refills, no ID required.

Experienced ICE Agents know that knocking down a few beers before hitting the streets makes it a lot more fun to knock down the illegal aliens who are poisoning the blood (and who knows, maybe the beer) of the Fatherland.

Huge sign-on bonus! Huge paycheck! Job comes with bulletproof vest and a real gun, and the atavistic joy of hitting people who can't hit you back. Plus free drinks!

What are you waiting for kid?

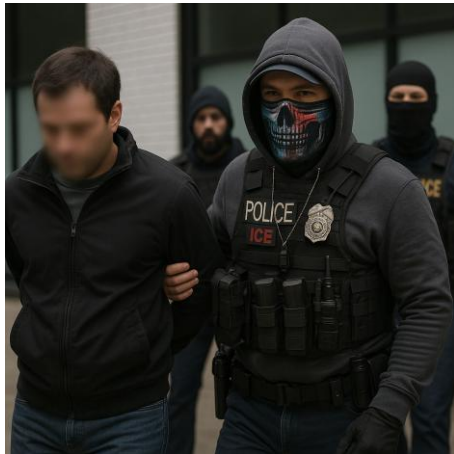

Sincerely,

DHS Recruitment Office

PS: If you stay with it long enough you might one day become Border Czar yourself, a position in which you will be able to accept bags full of bribe money knowing that the FBI will make any legal repercussions go away.

Drink up kid – you’re an ICE Bro now!

Don’t want to wear an official ICE uniform? No problem!
You can create your own – the scarier the better!

Imagine the adrenaline rush of hitting people who can’t hit you back!
