

Good Old Boys for Life

This is a picture of Texas Republican Governor Greg Abbott signing the state's draconian abortion ban. Of the 74 people in this picture, 61 are white men and 13 are white women.

The Black and Hispanic women who make up more than half the female population of the Lone Star State have ZERO Black or Hispanic women there to represent them.

Texas abortion ban Republicans have since shown how very little their silly finger puppet hearts really meant by throwing more than one million Texans off the rolls of Medicaid, including many of the women they will in the coming years force to give birth to children they do not want and cannot afford to raise.
