

Donald Trump's Greatest Heist

When was the last time you went a full 24 hours without thinking about Donald Trump?
Whether you are Red or Blue
Trump is a worm in your brain burrowing deeper into your store of attention and lurking over every thought and conversation.

The Donald has ripped us off in so many ways...
Trump trading cards, Trump shoes, Trump coins, Trump nonfungible tokens, cartoonish images of
The Donald living out his most extravagant wet dreams.

But The Donald's greatest heist...
one he's pulled off virtually without notice
like a conman running a shell game...
is the billions of hours of mental and emotional energy
that have been sucked into his egomaniacal lust for attention.

Think about it...
All the conversations never had.
All the books never written.
All the songs never sung.
All the love never expressed.

All because The Donald has stolen
so much of our attention.

Donald Trump is a giant black hole whose pathological need for constant adulation has stolen from us
God's most precious gift to humans:
our attention.
